

Plan Your Holiday Visit

Season's Greenings opens on Thanksgiving Day, November 27,

2014. The best times to visit Season's Greenings are weekdays early in December or on select Tuesday and Thursday evenings in December when the Conservatory is open until 8 p.m. with live seasonal music.

Aside from these extended holiday hours, the Conservatory is open every day of the year, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., free of charge.

Please travel lightly, as the Conservatory is not equipped to store your personal items. You must keep strollers and all personal items with you at all times.

Photography

We welcome - and encourage - personal photography at the U.S. Botanic Garden. Due to the increased number of visitors to the U.S. Botanic Garden during Season's Greenings, tripod cannot be used on any weekends or on weekdays starting December 12, 2014.

Commercial photography - including wedding, engagement and professional family photography - is not allowed.

Tours

Group tours are not offered during Season's Greenings, but will resume in January.

Entrances

During Season's Greenings, there are two entrances to the Conservatory on Maryland Avenue SW.

- The Model Train Entrance provides entry to the Garden Railway model train exhibit. After you've seen the trains, you can view the rest of the Season's Greenings exhibit throughout the Conservatory.
- The Conservatory Entrance bypasses the Garden Railway trains and provides entry to the rest of the Conservatory. You'll find seasonal plant displays throughout the Conservatory, replicas of the capital's landmark buildings in the Garden Court and one of the largest indoor decorated trees in Washington, D.C., in the West Gallery.

In short, if you want to see the model trains, please use the Model Train Entrance!

Source URL: <http://www.usbg.gov/plan-your-holiday-visit>