

Smithsonian Fiesta de las Or-KID-eas!

Event Date:

Sat, Feb 23, 2013

Smithsonian Gardens

Visitors of all ages will be able to explore the world of orchids at !Fiesta de las Or-KID-eas!, the Orchid Exhibit Family Festival. They will have the opportunity to discover the diversity of orchids and cultures of Latin America through a variety of hands-on activities like making an orchid mosaic and a garland of orchids. Visitors can even pot their own orchid to take home. Experts from Smithsonian Gardens, the U.S. Botanic Garden and the North American Orchid Conservation Center will be available to answer questions and tell visitors about unique plants from their collections on display. The free activities are hosted in conjunction with the exhibition "Orchids of Latin America" at the National Museum of Natural History, a collaboration of Smithsonian Gardens and the U.S. Botanic Garden.

Date: Saturday, February 23

Time: 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Location: Smithsonian Institution National Museum of Natural History

FREE: No pre-registration required
