

National Fund for the U.S. Botanic Garden

The National Fund for the U.S. Botanic Garden is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization. It was created in 1991 to finance the National Garden. Today, the National Fund supports the educational outreach activities at the U.S. Botanic Garden.

The U.S. Botanic Garden and the National Fund share a dedication to demonstrating the aesthetic, cultural, economic, therapeutic and ecological importance of plants to human well-being. The National Fund supports the creation of extraordinary programs and events that delight, educate and inspire visitors to become more active in their lives.

that support life on earth.

The National Fund achieves its mission by helping coordinate around 200 public programs each year at the U.S. Botanic Garden, reaching thousands of visitors.

The National Fund administers registration fees, supports the U.S. Botanic Garden volunteer program, sponsors an outreach internship and funds the Horticultural Outreach Program (HOPS) program.
