

Blueflower eryngo

Plant Botanical Name:

Eryngium integrifolium

USBG Plant Location:

National Garden

Sunlight:

full sun

Blueflower eryngo is a carrot relative grown for its unusual spikey metallic blue flowers that form compact heads surrounded by blue bracts.

Source URL: <https://www.usbg.gov/plants/blueflower-eryngo>